

THE AGRIGROWTH JOB EXCHANGE

A partnership between
AgriGrowth &
RealTime Talent

Your centralized entry point for posting jobs in the agriculture and food sector and finding the candidates who are the right match.

Beginning with the end in mind, the Exchange moves questions about interests, preferences, desired work place environments and priority needs to the beginning of the process, reducing hiring bias, and mismatches between job seekers and employers.

It operates much like an online dating site—only matching for compatibility between job seekers and employers.

The Exchange provides job seekers and employers of their top matches, eliminating time spent sorting through stacks of resumes or endless job lists.

The blind-matching software helps to level the playing field for small to mid-size business

Job seekers and employers have the option of setting privacy settings on their profile

All job postings and candidates are “active” with updates every 30 days
